REGENTS COMMUNICATION
ACTION REQUEST

Subject: Building Naming

Action

Requested: Authorization to name the CCRB Replacement in honor of the Hadley Family

Proposed

Name: Hadley Family Recreation & Well-Being Center

Background:

Inspired by their daughter and son's experiences at the University of Michigan, Philip and Nicole Hadley have made gifts totaling $20 million to support construction of the Central Campus Recreation Building replacement.

The Hadleys' daughter Kate graduated from the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts (LSA) in 2020, and their son Eric graduated from LSA in 2022 and in 2023 with a master of management degree. The family commitment represents the largest gift to date from a member of the Parent & Family Leadership Council, as well as the largest gift ever to support campus recreation at U-M.

The new recreation center will enable greater access and opportunity for students, faculty and staff to improve their overall health. The 200,000-square-foot facility will include gymnasiums, an indoor aquatics center, a track for jogging and walking, spaces for weight and cardiovascular training, group exercise rooms, climbing areas, courts for squash and racquetball, a cycling studio, inclusive locker rooms, a mind/body studio and functional training spaces. Visitors will have access to five floors filled with natural light and packed with amenities to exercise, socialize, enjoy friendly competition and explore the mind-body connection.

At U-M, Philip and Nicole served as members of the Parent & Family Leadership Council from 2017-2023, and have also supported the College of Engineering and College of Literature, Science, and the Arts.

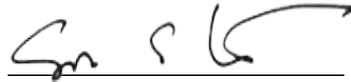

In recognition of the Hadley family's exceptional generosity to U-M and this significant commitment, we recommend that the Board of Regents approve the naming of the Hadley Family Recreation & Well-Being Center, effective immediately.
